

VANITY UPON VANITY ALL IS VANITY, SO WHY WORRY?

You are born in first class hospital and I was born in a local hospital but both of us still survive. You attended the best kindergarten, nursery, and primary school and I attended village slate carrier primary school both of us acquire the knowledge of ABC and 123, You are taken to school in high rated car and I always trek with patched uniform to school, both of us reach our school and sat down to learn. You get entrance into one of the best private boarding school and I was admitted into a cheap VILLAGE COMMUNITY SCHOOL both of us acquired knowledge of all the classes we attend.

At school, you were giving cartons of provision and I was given only ₦10 CABIN BISCUIT as my snacks both of us are the same and hunger did not kill us. You gained your first class certificate from a high rated university abroad that people in Nigeria have not had about it, in this world, I gained mine at my beloved state university. Both of us attain our goals. You gained employment on a healthy company and I serve as a teacher and both of us still receive our salary and even benefit much from it.

You eat four square meal everyday and also eat snack on top and I save my money eating one or two square meal and even drinking Garri WITH kernel nut (aki), both of us still end up defecating in the toilet. When we die, at the end you were put in the best glass casket and I was put in a wooden casket, yet we end up in being buried six fit.

It's obvious that nothing is different, But heaven / hell determines the last journey of every Man. See.....(Hebrews 9: ver 27)
